

A FLING* Can Be Just a Short Email Away!

by Alice Henneman (ahennema@unlnotes.unl.edu)

Our first fling was a "quickie." It took about 30 minutes to Email FCP members and potential members in Lincoln, NE and we were good to go!

The site of our rendezvous? A new restaurant in town.

We met for drinks at 5:30 after work, then dined at 6:00. The conversation (and wine!) flowed into the evening.

Kris, the owner, described why he started the restaurant and his plans for the future. A group member and professor at the University has since invited him to speak to one of her classes. You never know what opportunities will occur because of a FLING!

It looks like our "quickie" will turn into a long-term relationship. We're already planning our next one!
